

PRE-K

Positive Tips for Emotions and Self Awareness

- I Can Do It...With Little Practice-Learning to use a Growth Mindset
 - Focus on Effort, Not Just Outcomes-Celebrate your student's accomplishment and talk about what it took to reach that goal.
 - Think About Your Child as a "learner"-It's important to use a growth mindset when developing social skills and managing emotions.
 - Let Them Know Mistakes Are a Part of Learning-If your student feels frustrated or discouraged, let them know that everyone makes mistakes-even you.

A PEEK AT OUR MONTH

Our monthly theme is "Our Community"

Weeks:

1. Places We Go
2. People We Meet
3. Things That Move
4. Going Green

Here are a few books that are theme related if you would like to read to your student each night.

A Good Night Walk by Elisha Cooper, Carlo Likes Counting by Jessica Spanyol, Knuffle Bunny by Mo Willems, and Rosie's Walk by Pat Hutchins.

We will be focusing on building community places and scenes, acting out community roles and activities, and using blocks to explore math concepts.

If you would like to contact Ms. Willie for any reason, please email her at
